Honey Dew Lodge is built on a wooded hillside overlooking cherry orchards and pastoral farmlands. Sit on the porch to catch the spectacular scarlets and pinks of the evening sunset. Stay out even later to watch the stars shine through the trees. Wander the meandering trails through the 80 acres of surrounding woodland. And, in winter, enjoy cross-country skiing and snowmobiling.

The silence beckons you. Long, peaceful afternoons in the country. Deer grazing just outside your window. Crickets chirruping in the twilight. Eighty acres of woods to explore. This is real relaxation. Welcome to Honey Dew Lodge. Owners and builders Wayne and

This authentic Door County log home is built of native pine with a fieldstone wood-burning fireplace and a private deck for stargazing. Your own personal retreat.

Dianne Lautenbach created this custom, hand-scribed, Scandinavian-style log home to share with others. Built for comfort and convenience, Honey Dew Lodge is the perfect spot for a getaway in any season.

If you enjoy biking, follow the scenic country roads to the nearby towns of Egg Harbor, Fish Creek, and Ephriam. Or peddle to the beach—just two miles away.

Wayne and Dianne Lautenbach built their custom pine lodge with the hope that those who shared it would also come to share their love of log homes. They designed it to be rented as either a first floor luxury log home retreat, a two bedroom upper-level log home retreat, or the entire lodge for larger groups.
